

SINGAPORE April 2017 - TravelerBuddy, the Singapore-Swiss Company that Prepares You for Hassle-Free Travel

A New Travel Itinerary Management App that understands what business and frequent travelers need: before, during and after travel – it is your Digital Travel Assistant on mobile.

A survey* conducted on travelers and executive assistants lists lack of offline access to important travel-related information inadequate flight notification alerts or unclear customs entry requirements as some of their pet peeves of traveling. The respondents also dread the task of sifting through piles of paperwork to get their expenses reimbursed. TravelerBuddy eliminates all of the above inconveniences as an all-in-one solution to organizing all information needed for your travels.

Besides creating automatic itineraries through user-forwarded confirmation emails, TravelerBuddy:

- Sends reminders for passport or visa renewal and notifies you of travel requirements from one country to another such as up-to-date customs and health information;
- Notifies travelers with real-time flight alerts and gate changes, to eliminate hassle of waiting
- Offers offline access to travel-related information and documents stored in the App, for paperless travels under document box.
- Let's users attach original booking documents to trip itinerary cards.
- Easily manages travel expenses from forwarded booking confirmation, or by uploading receipts;
- Provides at-your-fingertips profile information needed for immigration card-filling;
- Stores securely all of users' required personal details in one single place with additional password protection;
- Synchronizes selected trip items with users' agenda with the option of sharing your printable version of your itinerary via whatsapp or any messenger application.
- Allows for manual editing of trips and adding of notes;
- Provides Google map access within the app to locate the addresses on the trip cards.
- Allows the user to customize their trip background images to their preference and more.

"Finally a Travel Companion that understands the needs of travelers! I love how its real-time notifications keep my travel plans up-to-date, how the automatically- created itinerary reveals all relevant travel info at the click of a finger, and how I no longer have to wade through my crowded inbox. TravelerBuddy does it all for me and it's so easy to use!" enthuses Flavio Marazzi , Entrepreneur & Owner of the Marwin Racing Team (marwin.com) and world champion in Sailing, who travels several dozen times per year internationally.
